Lexis Nexis Access Agreement

The Office of the State Public Defender (OPD) maintains a limited number of Lexis Nexis Legal Research Licenses (License) for use by OPD Contract Attorneys at OPD's expense.

The research capabilities available under this License are the same services that are provided to OPD FTE attorneys under the State of Montana's Master Service Agreement with Lexis Nexis. Services that are not included in the subscription will be blocked.

To be eligible to receive a License at OPD's expense, you must:

1. Have and maintain a current Memorandum of Understanding with OPD;
2. Perform a significant amount of work for OPD. OPD reserves the right to determine if your current case load qualifies as significant; and,
3. Agree not to share your Lexis Nexis ID and/or password with any other attorneys, even if you are associated together in a firm, office share, or in any other arrangement.

OPD reserves the right to revoke or reassign a license at any time.

NOTE: The value of the Lexis Nexis license paid by OPD on your behalf may be taxable.
